

Artist Bio

Robin A. Lively

Robin Lively is an artist living in Bastrop County, Texas. She is a native of Houston, Texas. She has always loved nature and art became a natural extension of that love.

She enjoys many forms of artistic expression, especially painting landscapes and wildlife in oils and pastels. In addition, she also works in watercolor, colored pencil and linoleum block prints.

She loves to capture the beauty of the big open skies of Texas and the light and shadows of our beautiful trees.

She wants her paintings to draw you in and down that path or along that beach. Her paintings share the beauty of the moment and the story that unfolds.

Robin studied art at the University of Houston, The University of Texas, Austin Community College and The Art School at Laguna Gloria. She has continued to study and explore art through workshops and classes, including studies with Karen Vernon, Jacob Aguilar, Wanda Gamble, Enid Wood, Mike Beeman, Stan Sperlak, Terri Ford, Marsha Hamby Savage, Marla Baggetta and Rita Kirkman.

Her paintings have been accepted into juried exhibitions in The Pastel Society of Southeast Texas of the Houston area, the Austin Pastel Society, the Star of Texas Exhibit in Brownwood Texas, the Lost Pines Art League and the Austin Bergstrom Airport exhibition "A Long Migratory Journey". She has been the featured artist at the Lost Pines Artisans Alliance, Mosaic Art and Home and the Lost Pines Art League. Her painting "Sycamore" was chosen by Beverly Voss for the cover of her 2017 book of poetry Sycamore Skies.

Her work is currently on display at: Lost Pines Artisans Alliance in Smithville Texas; and Mosaic Art and Home in Smithville Texas.

She is a member of the Austin Pastel Society, the Central Texas Pastel Society, and the Lost Pines Artisans Alliance.
